See the back of the book for detailed information. TO ALL GRACIOUS AND LOVESOME LADIES GIOVANNI FRANCESCO STRAPAROLA GIVETH GREETING. There be many, dear ladies, whether moved by envy or ill will, for ever seeking to fix their dreadful fangs in my flesh and to rend my poor limbs asunder, charging me that the pleasant tales I have writ and gathered togetlier in this and mine other volume be none of mine, but goods which I have feloniously filched from this man or from that. To tell truth, they be not mine; and if I said otherwise, I should lie. But I have faithfully set them down according to the manner and fashion in the which they were told me by a company of ten fair ladies gathered together for recreation. And that I do now let them see the light, is in no wise for the gratifying of mine own pride or to bring me honour and renown, but solely for to please you all, and in especial them that have a rigid to command me, and to whom I do owe perpetual service and obligation. Take then, sweet ladies, with kindly faces the humble gift your servant doth proffer, and never heed these snarling whelps, which in their currish rage...
